

Whitman Ford closing a shame

I was disappointed to learn that the Whitman Ford dealership will be closing by the end of this month ("Whitman Ford closing at the end of April," April 13).

The Whitman family has been a pillar in the Bedford community for many years. John Whitman and his family have proven their love for their hometown by donating land for Monroe Community College and providing funds to help build the YMCA.

This town will be losing a business, jobs, tax money, and a fine Christian man. The law suits, threats, and boycotts have given the little town a bad name.

SHIRLEY KONOFF
Temperance

Temperance losing a good man

I was disappointed to hear that the Whitman Ford dealership will be closing by the end of this month. The Whitman family has been a pillar in the Bedford community for many years. Jon Whitman and his family have proven their love for their hometown by donating land for Monroe County Community College and providing funds to help build the YMCA.

What a shame that this town will be losing a business, jobs, tax money and a fine Christian man.

The lawsuits, the threats and the boycotts have given our little town a bad name.

Shirley Konoff
Temperance

Tuesday, April 19, 2011

The Monroe Evening News
