

"Patty and Linda About Town" To Be Weekly Feature

LINDA

The Goalpost is starting a new column today which will be continued in the paper each week. The title, "Patty and Linda About Town," indicates that it is a social feature. It is to be based upon Mitch Woodbury's in the "Blade." Any personals should be placed in the "Goalpost Box." We don't want this to be a smutty, gossip column.

We were kept quite busy this weekend jumping from one place to another trying to find our fellow Bedfordites in action.

Cam Brandeberry and Barb Bramen were seen swinging at the Crib Saturday night -- for about 15 minutes!

MacDonald's got quite a bit of Bedford patronage after Saturday's game. Among those seen eating there were Gary Grosteffon; Sharon Pahle, Jim MacMacken, Pat Quick, Greg Smith, Linda Snow, Fred Lowe, Bob Ufer, Tom Sorosiak, and Gene Stock.

We heard that Diana Zink went to a Playboy Party with Larry. A Playboy Party! HMMMMMM
Mike Morris; John Shuey, Nick Snyder, and Pat Keane were seen wasting their money at Frisches after the game Friday night.

Saturday night Mickey Darr and her current steady Denny Dixon made the scene at the Miracle Mile.

Lynda Hise preferred T.U.'s game to our game Saturday night and we suspect it was the company she was with.

"Patty and Linda About Town"

HI! Here we are again! Last week we ran all over spying on our fellow Bedfordites.

On Friday night "Swing into Spring" drew quite a crowd. Among those seen "swinging" there were Gary Binger and Laura Multon, Tim Tomolka and Lorie Keip, Linda Snow, Mike Frost, Chuck Campbell, Nettie Brighton, Doug Dold, Dave Lennex, Bill Hotellie, Jackie Swisher, Joe Stock, and Lynda Elsten.

Naturally, as we drove through MacDonald's we saw EVERYONE! Lucky MacDonald's..it is now THE place for Bedfordites. Some of the "in" ones seen there were Trudy Brighton, Mike Fitzmorris, Charlie Vaughn, Danny West, Cheryl Binger, Geno Sims, Ed Rendle, Lynda Hise, Mike Tollison, Mike Patton, and Bob LeeMaster.

Some of the varsity basketball team, PLUS Mike Morris went up to East Lansing to see the high school basketball finals, Friday.

We also discovered something, very unhappily, we might add. Gene Stock and Tom Soroziak are cheapskates. They just HAD to see the movie at Miracle Mile Drive-In, but just COULDN'T spend the money. Perhaps that explains why they were seen driving in late enough so they didn't have to pay.

But, then again, Bedford's reputation was saved in the form of good-ole Charlie Vaughn. It seems that he and Judy Thompson went down town to a show. When Charlie paid for the tickets he handed the girl a $5 bill. Judy stood there, expecting Charlie to wait for the change. Instead, he guided her into the theater. Afterwards, when they went to get something to eat, Charlie opened his wallet to pay and discovered he was short a $5 bill. Judy told him what he had done and he hadn't even realized it!

Patty and Linda About Town

Hello out there, all you "Patty and Linda" fans. Bedfordites were jumping around all over the place this week.

Friday night the Senior play drew quite a crowd. Some of the patriotic supporters of the Senior class seen there were Ellen Geer and Wayne Fisher, Gary Lenord and Karen Hudson, Mel Fultz, Judy Dickerson, and OUR EDITOR, Dave Snouffer.

The dance "April Showers" also drew quite a mass of swinging people. Certain members of the Senior Play cast proved their school spirit by showing up after the play. Some of those and others seen there were Nancy Kahn and Charlie Vaughn, Gene Stock, Gary Binger and Laura Nulton, Candy Dodds and Danny Tammarine, Cheryl Binger and Walt Schmidt, Lorrie Keip and Greg Pappas, STEVE SHEA AND Bonnie Hendrix, Bonita Dodds, Cindi Lennardson, and Judy Behan.

The "Y" saw quite a few Bedfordites. Among those seen in the crowd were Lynn Walker, Karen Schiller, Marsha Tolly, Judy Stubleski, Linda Pancoast, Fred Keir, Chip Patton, and Ken Romine.

Saturday night the play again drew a crowd of Bedfordites. Some of those staunch supporters were Cherie Stemen and Dave Kolar, Norma Whittenburg and Chuck Scheltema, Jeaneane Miller and Gary Meinhart, Sally Bortner, Linda Snow, and Lynda Hise and Jim Barnes.

After the play the cast had a party over at Janice Denbroeder's. The whole cast and many extras were seen playing ping pong, craps (?), and poker, (?), were Laurie Hilde, Jeff Rendle, Nick Sny- (See ABOUT TOWN p. 14)

Page 14

ABOUT TOWN.

(cont'd from p. 13)

der, John Jones, John Shuey, Lynny Mason, Lance Mason, Tom Mac-Bay, Tom Sorosiak, Mike Osemak and Jerry Brunt, and, of course, MISS DEINGLESKI!

Mike Morris and Judy Thompson, and Gary Fenchuk and Diana Zink certainly made the rounds. After the cast party, they wandered into Jim Kinney's surprise party. Some of the other surprisers seen there were Doug Degner, Marsha Tolly and Fred Keier, and Kathy Vass.

Some of those seen Sunday afternoon supporting the seniors at the play were Katie Guthrie, and Tom Meinhart, Jim Kinney and Kathy Vass, Cheryl Hudson, Carol Martin, and Carol Kraniewski and Dave Schuman.

After the play another cast party was held. Everyone met at Anderson's and ate then went on to the "Rod and Custom Show". To say "fun was had by all," would be a big understatement!

We hear there are more cast Parties planned for the future. Whew-----

Well, bye till then.

April 10, 1964

ABOUT TOWN...

(Cont'd From Page 9)
stage after the final curtain and asked Paulette Breen for her autograph. But we must state that red is a very becoming shade on Mrs. Emptage!

Saturday night we didn't get around too much, but we did see Judy Dickerson and Roger VanGunton watching "Paris When it Sizzles."

Mary Andrews and Phil Duell proved they were in the know by making an appearance at MacDonalds.

There were quite a few Bedfordites at Raceway Park for the start of the season. Among them were Leo Urbaniak, Marty Gray, Mr. Bieniak, and Tom Sorosiak. We wonder if they won or lost!!!

Sunday night Mrs. Emptage braved it again and took another group of Bedfordites to Cardinal Strich. But it proved to be a color-maker again, thanks to the antics of Joe Grifka. First he pushed himself, Debbie Schalitz, Lynn Willis, and Bob Belden through a crowd of people just so he could sit near Mrs. Emptage. Then during intermission he was heard to remark at the top of his lungs, "I DON'T THINK THEIR GILLETTE IS ANY GOOD!" Of course, Cherie Stemen added her contribution by falling up the bleachers in her heels.

Well, that's it for this week.

ENGLISH TEACHER
DIRECTS PLAY

32 Thespians Are Named

The Thespians for the 1963-64 school year have been announced by Mrs. Emptage, advisor.

Members of the National Thespian Society are chosen on the basis of ten points accumulated through dramatic activities. Points may be earned throughout the four years of high school.

The purpose of Thespians is to create an interest in dramatic activities through participation and attendance.

Mrs. Emptage commented, "The Drama Club has been successful far beyond my anticipations. I look forward to a greater season next year."

Initiation for the 32 newly named Thespians will be held Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30 in the study hall.

The new Thespians for 1963-64 are: Denley Barnette, Patty Shea, Cindi Lenardson, Dave Nichols, Mary Jones, Tamara Kanavel, Evelyn Powers, Diana Zink, Jean White, Tom Pankop, Jon Frye, Joe Grifka, Sue Rohr, Joy Eby, Greg Zieren, John F. Scott, Carol Spence, Sonia Hubbard, Dennis Mayers, Linda Lenardson, Steve Powers, Tom Sorosiak, Suzie Lagoner, Janice Denbroeder, Richard Hanson, Kathy Moore, Jeff Rendle, Dave Snoffer, Kathy Shrider, Charles Reinhold, Trela Whitmer, and Donna Hiser.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Miss Dzingleski

The tall, attractive English teacher, Miss Dzingleski, is producer and director of this year's Senior Play, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

A graduate of Mary Manse College, Miss Dzingleski has taught at Bedford High School for four years. This year she is teaching junior and freshman English.

Miss Dzingleski has worked diligently on this year's Senior Play. She expects to have a big turnout from the Senior Class. At the practices she yells, screams, and hollers into the microphone attempting to direct certain unruly cast members. Tom Sorosiak is the major catalyst in the everyday chaos that occurs. Then, Miss Dzingleski turns around and brings the cast a box of pastries her mother has prepared. The cast loves her, though, and will produce the best results possible for her.

Could It Be They Like School?

More Than 200 Have Perfect Attendance For Year

Seniors

Tom Banks

William Blaesing

Judy Brighton

Gerald Brunt

Charles Clarke

Donna Hiser

Douglas Kish

Mary Kruse

Wayne Roberts

David Snouffer

Linda Snyder

Tom Sorosiak

Eugene Stock

Tom Stubleske

Robert VanDusen