Wilburn has right to run as write-in candidate

I just read the letter by Steven Lennex in Thursday's Evening News. I would like to proffer a different view.

If Mr. Lennex truly wanted to ask a question of the supervisor, he could have phoned the township center; the number is easily obtained. I believe that (Supervisor) Walt Wilburn meant what he said regarding working with Greg Stewart for a smooth transition. After much prodding and praying, Mr. Wilburn made the decision to run as a write-in candidate; that is his right.

Mr. Lennex states that just because it is a right doesn't make it right. That is a bit scary. What other rights do we have that perhaps this one citizen feels we should not exercise?

Mr. Lennex mentions party affiliation. I think this goes well beyond that as should any and every political call to duty. Mr. Lennex made the decision to use words like, "arrogant" and "dishonest." I find that a disturbing and scary way to refer to anyone exercising a right.

If Mr. Lennex has an issue, he is free to vote on it. I, personally, was very troubled by the election. It was a huge decision to make. Should my voice be heard for the sheriff's office or for the township supervisor? That is what many of us felt when we walked into the polls.

Mr. Lennex referred to the action as "unbelievable." Well, Mr. Lennex should believe it! There are still many citizens who want to exercise their rights and maybe even a few more potential candidates who may exercise their rights. This is still the United States and I am grateful we get a second chance!
